

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This programming is not a news story; it is a political statement just before the current election. This is irresponsible use of the public's airwaves and deserves to be denied. The FCC is being irresponsible in allowing this political statement to air in this manner. Shame on you.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
